

Call Me Woman

Ellen Kuzwayo

Preface by Nadine Gordimer

Foreword by Bessie Head

aunt lute books
SAN FRANCISCO

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
Preface by Nadine Gordimer	xi
Foreword by Bessie Head	xiii
Ellen Kuzwayo's Career	xvii
Principal legislation affecting the black community	xx
PART ONE Soweto
1 Coming Back Home	3
2 Hunger Knows No Laws	16
3 Violence in the Community	40
PART TWO My Road to Soweto
4 My Lost Birthright	55
5 Unfolding Horizons	76
6 Further Education and Growing Doubts	92
7 Physical and Emotional Shocks	97
8 Farewell Thaba'Nchu	107
9 A Home of My Own	118
10 Return to Johannesburg	133
11 Looking to the Young	147
12 Changing Roles in Mid-Stream	156
13 I See My Sons Grow Up	180
14 How the State Sees Me	198
PART THREE Patterns Behind the Struggle
15 Finding Our Strength	221
16 'Minors' Are Heroines	240
17 The Church and the Black Woman	251
18 Nkosi Sikelel' i Afrika – God Bless Africa	258
South African Black Women Medical Doctors	264
South African Black Women Lawyers	266